

~ James B. Sikking

Memory ID: 3K8H0ISHA4

Produced by: MemoryBox

James. B. Sikking, best known for his roles in the 1980's TV hits Hill Street Blues & Doogie Howser, MD, died July 13 at age 90. Sikking's acting career began in film in 1955. In 1971 he played a surgeon in the soap General Hospital. In 1998, Sikking won a People's Choice Award for his role in the TV drama Brooklyn South. Sikking raised money for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and Susan G. Komen Foundation.

Scan to join this MemoryBox Memory

<https://memorybox.com/3K8H0ISHA4>