

Bruce Edward Smith

Memory ID: SUU5LA0E0Q

Produced by: Pam Smith

Bruce was an avid geologist and mineralogist for most of his life. He enjoyed being outdoors, collecting and being with his rocks. The hobby and business he created consumed most of his time and passion on this earth. His friends and mentors were always, in some way, connected to his love of minerals. He always loved the search for new finds, whether fossils or minerals.
